Ms. Quinn told the Council that 450 members of Local 25 are employed by Republic Services and that the union has been bargaining for a new contract with higher wages, health benefits and safe working conditions. According to Ms. Quinn, Republic Services is responsible for this situation, which led to 2,000 teamsters going on strike. She said that the union is seeking similar wages and benefits as are being paid by Capital Waste Management, a local company, to its employees.

Councilor Strezo commented that Republic Services is showing contempt for its workforce and customers and Councilor Scott said this is fundamental to workers' rights. (ID # 25-1237)

Requesting ordainment of an amendment to Sections 7-64, 7-65 and 7-68 of the Code of Ordinances to reduce displacement of tenants and update relocation payments.

Councilor Davis explained that this item is essentially the same as item #25-1044, which was severed from the Legislative Matters Committee Report, but with the addition of an effective date. He went on to say that minor changes were made to the ordinance after concerns were brought to councilors. Councilor Scott said the fundamental problem was that, under the current ordinance, it was easy to displace tenants for condo conversion. The working group recommended changes so that the ordinance does not get circumvented. Councilor Davis stated that the intended effects are to make it more attractive to keep people in their homes. He noted that he has received some feedback in opposition to the changes. Councilor Wilson commented that it makes sense to table this item until the next regular City Council meeting in order to allow councilors time to digest and fully understand the ordinance and he moved to table the item. The motion was approved.

10.2. Resolution
(ID # 25-1249)

By Councilor Burnley Jr., Councilor Wilson, Councilor Scott, Councilor Strezo, Councilor Davis and Councilor Mbah
Condemning Harvard's attack on its Graduate Student Union.

AMENDMENT:

WHEREAS: Education, research, and academic inquiry are values intimately connected to the lives, careers, and passions of Somervillians; and

WHEREAS: Whereas the Trump administration has targeted education and research including grants, funding, and academic freedom at Harvard University; and

WHEREAS: Harvard University employs many residents of Somerville; and

WHEREAS: Labor unions play a critical role in workplace and economic justice; and

WHEREAS: Harvard University is attempting to strip union protections away from workers who are in tenuous positions in science research, including by removing hundreds of students from the Harvard Graduate Student Union; NOW, THEREFORE BE IT

RESOLVED: That the Somerville City Council strongly opposes these actions by Harvard, is opposed to all forms of union busting, and urges Harvard administrators to undo these actions; AND BE IT FURTHER

RESOLVED: That Somerville urges Harvard Administration to seriously engage with the demands of the Harvard Graduate Students Union on issues from fair pay, to protections from harassment and discrimination, to resources for non-citizens; AND BE IT FURTHER

RESOLVED: That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Harvard University administration and president.

Councilor Burnley moved to replace the text of this resolution with the latest version submitted to the City Clerk. The motion was approved, and the amended language of the item was placed before the Council.

Councilor Burnley commented that he has seen some disgusting actions by Harvard University as they attempt to remove 973 people from their union because, according to Harvard, they are not workers. He spoke about the meaning of workers being in dispute far longer than Harvard has been around and said that the university is trying to bankrupt the union, and if successful, they can do it to other unions as well. He sponsored Dorothy Manovich, a graduate student and union member at Harvard. Ms. Manovich told the Council that Harvard is trying to strip union ranks and that workers are already under stress. She stated that Harvard's actions are explicitly illegal and that these workers will lose the wage increases that were negotiated. She also noted that the union relies on dues to operate, so if these workers get cut, the revenue loss will weaken the union. She asked for the Council's support.

Councilor Wilson commented that academia is founded on the exploitation of student labor and the best antidote is student unionization. Councilor Scott expressed dismay, saying that we are in an environment of conflict and he urged Harvard to de-escalate this conflict with the union.

RESULT: APPROVED AS AMENDED

10.3. Resolution
(ID # 25-1250)

By Councilor Burnley Jr., Councilor Wilson, Councilor Davis, Councilor Scott, Councilor McLaughlin, Councilor Mbah and Councilor Strezo
In support of certain public workers right to strike.

Councilor Burnley stated that the fundamental power workers have is to withhold their labor. He noted that many public institutions employ workers who do not have the right to strike and that when public bodies do the wrong thing, workers should be able to strike without being punished. He sponsored Jim Kaplan, Marianne Walles and Colette Berard to speak. Colette Berard spoke about teachers striking in Andover because of contract negotiations with the School Committee. Jim Kaplan, a former teacher in Somerville, said the division of private vs. public rights was done when labor laws were written and he stated that in MA, labor laws can be changed, but in order to effectuate change, labor needs to be engaged and risks need to be taken. Marianne Walles, Regional VP of SEIU Local 509, said that her union is being “held at gunpoint” because it has no ability to fight for its members.

Councilor McLaughlin spoke about the struggle for labor continuing today and he stressed that workers take risks when on strike. Councilor Scott commented that people in public sector jobs often earn less than those in the private sector and that removing the risk and impediments to striking will make public service better.

Councilor Mbah assumed Chair.

Councilor Davis stated that this is a fundamental issue for millions of workers in MA and the country and he hopes that Beacon Hill takes this matter seriously. He also said that the left needs to do a better job in collaborating with those holding other viewpoints.
