This event serves as a bridge for Somerville residents to connect with and learn more about the Hongkonger community in Greater Boston, our culture, and our stories through performances, food, and interactive games and activities. For residents with the connection to Hong Kong, this event offers a space where they can experience a sense of familiarity, home, and belonging, allowing them to reconnect with their heritage or experiences. Additionally, this event presents a significant opportunity for the AAPI community in Somerville to come together and celebrate our collective strength and empowerment.

Somerville and Hong Kong have a similarity. We both have many residents with different cultural backgrounds. This opportunity allows immigrants/residents of different cultural backgrounds to find and compare the differences and similarities between the two cities.
