Requesting confirmation of the promotion of James M. Donovan to the position of Deputy Police Chief.

Police Chief Femino presented the candidate, James Donovan, with a brief background and his journey through the ranks with various supervisory positions held. Chief Femino highlighted recent accomplishments and among them acting as a liaison to the community make him more than qualified for this promotion.

Councilor Mbah asked what changes he hopes to bring forward in the department. Acting Deputy Donovan replied he has seen policing change in the past 30 years and is excited to bring forth more transparency to the police department, new policies, procedures, and more accreditations. He went on to address the morale in the police department, specifically in the patrol division, and working on getting the department fully staffed.

Councilor McLaughlin spoke to the changes in morale in the police department, including turnover and asked specifically what has changed in the department and asked the candidate what needs to keep happening to bring the department into the future. Acting Deputy Donovan identified he has seen more reactive policing, becoming more attuned to the community needs from policing, and becoming more responsive in the department's efforts.

Councilor Burnley asked about homeland security grants and asked the candidate how they would work with the Council to ensure the grants being applied for align with council priorities. Acting Deputy Donovan stated as an example, the Road Safety Grant, and having the opportunity to work with Brad Rawson and the community as a special interest group. The groups had the ability to take it back to the public and give the constituents what they are asking for in a revised version.
