5.2. Home Rule
Petition
(ID # 25-0774)

By Councilor Ewen-Campen, Councilor McLaughlin and Councilor Davis Proposing a Home Rule Petition to establish a charter for the City of Somerville.

Councilor Scott assumed the Chair to allow President Davis to speak on the item. Councilor Davis noted that there was still some ambiguity with Section 3-5 (b) and the section's interaction with Section 2-8 (a) relative to appointments.

Councilor Davis moved to amend Section 3-5 (b) by inserting "and the provisions of such 2-8 \(a\) shall apply to both an appointment and reappointment" before the previously inserted and adopted amendment "provided however that a reappointment shall not be rejected except by negative vote of 8 members of the city council." The motion was approved on a roll call vote of 9 in favor (Wilson, Ewen-Campen, Scott, McLaughlin, Burnley, Sait, Strezio, Clingan, Davis), 0 opposed, 2 absent (Mbah, Pineda Neufeld).

Councilor Davis commented that he shares the frustration felt by some councilors during the process of negotiating a revised charter and with the inability of the Council to obtain a larger share of power, due largely to Somerville's form of government. He stated that he does not support the 4-year term question to be on the ballot but he accepts that the Council approved it, adding that he considers it a win with respect to the city attorney's position.

Councilor Burnley spoke about the City Council changing its mind on items in the past and Councilor Sait commented that, although Councilors Scott's amendments are important, this is about the 4-year term for the mayor. Councilor Ewen-Campen noted that the proposed charter is a major improvement over the one in use today and said that he's happy with the outcome. Councilor Scott stated that he is proud of the process and engagement of colleagues but disappointed that it fell apart in the last 7 days. Councilor McLaughlin pointed out that the Home Rule Petition still needs to be signed by the mayor and make it through the state house in time to be included on the ballot by November. He remarked that the proposed charter is a huge gain for the City Council and for the city.

Councilor Clingan gave credit to the Charter Review Committee for their work and said that he believes that Beacon Hill does not have the appetite for certain things. Liaison Hutter told the Council that the mayor's office is grateful for the Council's work on this matter.

Following approval of the item as amended, Councilor Ewen-Campen moved for reconsideration. The motion was not approved on a roll call vote of 0 in favor, 10 opposed (Wilson, Ewen-Campen, Scott, McLaughlin, Burnley, Sait, Strezo, Clingan, Davis, Pineda Neufeld), 1 absent (Mbah).

10.2. Order
(ID # 25-0910)

By Councilor Scott

That the proposed Charter be amended relative to the inclusion of the Chief Administrative Officer as a Charter office by inserting a new section placing the question on the ballot.

Councilor Scott stated that he was introducing a number of items to be placed before the voters for approval, saying that procedures matter and that a compelling argument was made a few weeks ago at another City Council meeting to not fast track ballot questions. He told his colleagues that legislative responsibility should not be abdicated, and he acknowledged that the implicit threat is that without the ballot issue regarding to the 4-year term for the mayor being tacked onto the charter, the charter reform process will take longer. He stated that if the Council agrees to remove that particular amendment and not place the question on the ballot, he will remove his proposed amendments.

Councilor Ewen-Campen stated that he does not want to vote to reconsider the vote taken last week on that amendment and that he wants to pass the charter without further amendments since these were already approved by the Council and the mayor. He said that the sticking point is the term length for the mayor and he feels this should be a ballot question, but he does not support the other amendments being proposed by Councilor Scott tonight. Councilor Clingan agreed with Councilor Ewen-Campen and said that this compromise is the only path to success. Councilor Burnley commented that the mayor's office held up the charter to build in less accountability for themselves and that by allowing the mayor to put forth the ballot question, he believes that the Council is not in agreement and just gave in, as it has done repeatedly. He said that constituents want the City Council to be able to re-allocate funds to specific areas. He then spoke about the behavior of some councilors during meetings and how that manner of behavior has been allowed to continue. At this point, President Davis reminded Councilor Burnley to keep his comments to the matter currently being discussed. Councilor Burnley said that he would like to take up Councilor Scott's amendments individually.

Councilor McLaughlin stated his readiness to vote, saying that he will not support Councilor Scott's amendments and that if the Council did vote to approve them, he feels that some of them would be deal-breakers for the mayor. He noted that the state legislature will have to decide on the Home Rule Petition and that they most likely won't bother with it if it contains multiple items to be decided by the voters. He also stated that the proposed charter gives the City Council power and the mayor only gets the possibility of a 4-year term.

Councilor Scott assumed the Chair to allow President Davis to speak on the item. Councilor Davis said that he agrees with the process objections that Councilor Scott has and that from his perspective, the difference between the 4-year term item and Councilor Scott's items is that they (Councilor Scott's) will raise red flags on Beacon Hill, therefore, he won't support Councilor Scott's items. Councilor Davis then assumed the Chair.

Councilor Burnley encouraged colleagues to consider if they would support the charter with this contentious language, saying that it's a document that should have unanimous support, as it did. He stated that he was surprised to see that the mayor rejected it and sent back it with changes that were then approved by the Council even though the Council had previously rejected them.

Councilor Scott then spoke regarding the Chief Administrative Officer saying that the position was created by the mayor and that it is still a matter of controversy. He recounted that the City Council was divided and very nearly eliminated the position last year, yet it voted to enshrine the position in the proposed charter.

10.3. Order
(ID # 25-0911)

By Councilor Scott

That the proposed Charter be amended relative to the City Council authority to redirect budget funds by inserting a new section placing the question on the ballot.

Councilor Scott noted that some of the impetus for charter reform was to revise the balance of power in the city and he recalled an incident where the Council favored funding a program which the mayor ultimately failed to fund. Councilor Burnley reiterated that a shift in the balance of power has been supported by the City Council in the past and he sees no reason to concede the issue to the mayor. Councilor Wilson commented that putting this ballot question language into the charter would amount to giving it a poison pill.

10.4. Order
(ID # 25-0912)

By Councilor Scott

That the proposed Charter be amended relative to reducing the voting age in municipal elections by inserting a new section placing the question on the ballot.

Councilor Scott commented that this amendment was a recommendation of the Charter Review Committee, however, some councilors believed that it might prevent the Home Rule Petition (HRP) from getting through Beacon Hill's legislative process. Councilor Burnley pointed out that the City Council previously supported lowering the voting age but then backtracked. Councilors Ewen-Campen and Clingan noted that said HRPs regarding reducing the voting age have been passed multiple times by the Council, but at this point, it should not be an obstruction to passing the charter.

Councilor Burnley stated that he thinks non-citizens should have the right to vote and have a voice in local government.
